

ANNUAL REPORT OF PROVOST MARSHAL
GENERAL CROWDER IS INTERESTING

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The United States was ready to increase its fighting force to 7,000,000 men during 1919 if the war had continued, Provost Marshal General Crowder today stated in his annual report. About 18 per cent. of the men of military age, 18 to 45, were in the service, the report said. Seven per cent. was the maximum per cent. of men taken from one industry. The farmer was treated better than any other labor. Sixty-nine per cent. of those registered were in the deferred class. Comparatively few married men were taken. Physically the nation is 70 per cent. perfect according to draft experts.

RAILROADERS WAGES MUST BE KEPT
TO WAR HEIGHT SAYS MR. HINES

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Wage advances made to railroad employees during the war must be maintained, Director General Hines told the Senate Inter-State Commerce Commission today. The government, he indicated, still owes the railroads $381,000,000 on rentals.

Senators objected to extending government railroad control. "I can't see why Congress should tie its hands three or five years longer," declared Senator Pomerene, of Ohio. "I can't see why the reforms you have instituted can not be required of the railroads themselves subject to government supervision."

"That is not practical," replied Hines.

PACKER SWIFT COMPLAINED TO PRESIDENT OF UNFAIRNESS

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Lewis F. Swift attempted to have President Wilson interfere with the Federal Trade Commission's packers investigation. He wrote two letters to the President after failing to obtain an interview, alleging that the packers were being treated unfairly and asked the White House to take action to modify the commission's activities. Henry Veeder, Swift's attorney, read the letters to the Senate Inter-State Commerce committee today. President Wilson refused to interfere with the investigation. Swift wrote one letter just before the commission submitted its report to the Senate last July telling the President that the investigation was unfair and defended his concern. Veeder admitted he made no attempt to have witnesses testify as the Federal Trade Commission's packers-probe.

THE PORTUGUESE SQUABBLE

(By United Press)

MADRID, Feb. 5.—The Portuguese government has proceeded to blockade the ports between Aveiro and Cominsa, a dispatch from Lisbon reported today. It was also reported that no ships will sail from Oporto—controlled by the government—for fear of interference by the Republic's war ships concentrated on that side.

OHIO REPRESENTATIVE TO MAKE SERIOUS CHARGES

$100 WAR SAVINGS
STAMPS WILL SOON
BE ON THE MARKET

Philadelphia, Feb. 5.—The big war savings stamps will soon be on the market.

These stamps, in denomination of $100, are to be issued shortly by the treasury department and will be sold on the same relative terms as the $5 war savings certificates, of which the people have already bought more than a billion dollars worth.

The new stamps, which are now on the government presses at Washington, will cost $86.20 if bought during February, the price increasing twenty cents each month until the end of the year. They are redeemable for $100 on January 1, 1924. The stamp will be about the size of the $100 bond of the Fourth Liberty Loan.

The government ruling that no person can hold more than $1000 of war savings stamps of any single issue is still in force. On February 1, the price of the stamps increased one cent to $4.13. Thrift stamps bought last year are good for 1919 war savings stamps.

Decision to issue $100 stamps was reached by officials of the treasury department as the result of suggestions by investors in W. S. S. who said they found it irksome to amass a lot of $5 stamps and paste them upon certificates. They said that in their opinion investors of $100 or more a one time should be given equal encouragement as those who purchase twenty-five cent thrift stamps or $1 W. S. S. Heads of households may procure $1,000 worth of W. S. S. for every member but not more than that amount for each individual during any one year. The W. S. S. is really a short term discount bond, which may be converted into cash at the option of the holder, and is thus an excellent form of security for investor who are more or less doubtful as to the future, and feel they cannot afford to tie up their money in other investments. Four per cent interest compounded quarterly, is paid upon the W. S. S. whether it be a $100 stamp or a $5 stamp and both type of bond mature within five years of the date of purchase.

It must be some place because he says every girl they run across wants to go to America with them and there are some pretty fair damsels there at that. DUBOIS UNIT GOOD
ROADS ASSOCIATION
HAS BEEN FORMED

At a largely attended good roads meeting held last evening at the Central Y. M. C. A., DuBois, a branch of the county organization was formed. It was an interesting meeting, as much so as the larger gathering at Clearfield, but on a smaller scale. There was the same earnest determination manifested to get better highways, and it is certain that very effort will be made along this line in the future.

The meeting was called to order by Walter Hatten, with Russell Howard acting as secretary. After briefly talking over the situation a nominating committee was appointed by Mr. Hatten for the purpose of bringing in a list of officers. This committee submitted the following report, which was accepted:

President, Walter Hatten, vice presidents—M. I. McCreight, F. P. Weaver, A. N. Work; secretary, Russell Howard; treasurer, B. M. Martin. Executive committee, George Wachob, Frank Hahne, Sr., Grant Logan, C. L. Miles, W. L. Johnston, J. A. Slauchenhaupt, C. C. Hoover, S. J. Schreengost, A. F. Kuhn.

Shortly after this report County Commissioners Dale and Spencer entered the meeting. They were called upon by the chairman to tell, if possible, just when the road building could start. They stated that they did not know; that Harrisburg had not given them any information on the subject and they could not give out any information until they had heard from the highway department regarding the probable program.

They stated that Captain Winter, the district engineer, is now in Harrisburg and would probably be able to give considerable information when he returned.

Women prominent in New York society have taken the initiative toward erecting a memorial to Theodore Roosevelt by forming the Women's Roosevelt Memorial Commission.

The case of Com. vs. Edward McCann, who was charged on information made by the State Police with robbery and by the same token regarded as a suspect in the Ocala arson case, was ignored by the grand jury, which completely exonerated Mr. McCann of the charge and suspicions. No evidence was adduced to warrant the return of a bill and the defendant was accordingly vindicated.

At the annual election of officers of the Clearfield National bank John Dimeling was elected second vice president and Harry Boulton, Esq., of Reed, Boulton & Forsyth was elected a member of the board of directors. Mr. Boulton has a wide acquaintance throughout the county and is a highly successful business man.

NELSON ACQUITTED.
SANFORDS GUILTY
COURT GRINDS ON

The first case tried in criminal court this week was that of Com. vs. John Nelson who was charged by an Italian resident of Tyler with the stealing of four or five head of cattle.

This case attracted more than passing interest from the fact that cattle rustling on the barrens has long been a flourishing Clearfield county industry. Last year, so far as has been reported, more than fifteen head of cattle were stolen from the flocks herded on the mountains.

The farmers in the Coahen and Girard county who have suffered grievously in the past, were responsible for Mr. Nelson taking up herding last year in an attempt to break up the cattle thefts and it is the generally accepted belief that the real rustlers attempted to trace up a case on him because of that fact.

The prosecution may have been made in good faith from the evidence furnished but the jury was very properly of the belief that the wrong man had been arrested and Mr. Nelson was accordingly acquitted of the charge.

The case of Com. vs. Oliver Sanford and his wife was taken up this morning. The Sanfords are indicted upon a white slave charge. Orpha Gregg, the 18 year old white girl they had been harboring, was the chief witness against them. The Court appointed Wallace Smith and Clarence Kramer for the defense, and they put up a fine scrap but the evidence was against them and the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

The case of Com. vs. Edward McCann, who was charged on information made by the State Police with robbery and by the same token regarded as a suspect in the Ocala arson case, was ignored by the grand jury, which completely exonerated Mr. McCann of the charge and suspicions. HOUTZDALE MAN
SUES CHIEF OF POLICE

It makes a Houtzdale man mad to even hit him with your hat because we tried it one time when you hit a Houtzdale man a policeman's billy club and threw him upon the head and body and throw him against a table causing bodily injuries which incapacitated him from his usual avocation for several weeks, you are sure to be against it.

Chief of Police Jacob Smiley is already being made aware of the truth of these observations.

On January 23rd last Chief Smiley felt he had occasion to arrest a Houtzdale man named Charles Houtzdale and as the latter didn't want to be done and made such serious objection thereto the policeman was forced to employ force of arms to accomplish his full design. He got away with it however but whether he was wise and judicious in doing so will be determined in the courts of Clearfield county.

A. H. Woodward, Esq., representing Mr. Houtzdale, entered suit in the Prothonotary office regarding Chief Smiley in which it is sought to recover $5000 for physical and mental damages received by Houtzdale in the encounter. The plaintiff's statement recites that he is 35 years of age and a peaceful, law abiding citizen; that on January 23rd he the officer wrongly attempted to arrest him and in doing so injured him severely about the head and body and threw him against a table, doing great damage and injury from which he has been sick, lame and disordered and unable to work and expects to remain so for at least a week longer. He also was forced to pay $2 to a doctor for medical aid. He has been greatly humiliated, disgraced and shamed and sustained a loss of money and good will among his acquaintances and business associates and has lost $50000 in each of the years he has been injured.

The case has been set for trial in court.

A. L. Hagarty and W. W. Bowers of Coalport through their attorneys Miller & Harwick entered suit in the Prothonotary office this morning against F. H. Hahn and Son for $5000 damages for coal alleged to have been wrongfully removed from under the John B. Dillon tract of 300 acres in Beccaria township.

B. M. CLARK HEADS
R. & P. COMPANIES

Although official announcement has not yet been made, it is understood that B. M. Clark of Punxsutawney, was elected president of the Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal and Iron company and of the Jefferson and Clearfield Coal and Iron company, and allied coal corporations, at a meeting of the directors of the companies held in New York. He succeeds L. W. Robinson, who it is said, has been made chairman of the board of directors.

Mr. Clark has been the vice president of the company the past two years, and for many years prior to his elevation to the vice presidency was solicitor for the company, which position he maintained during its service as vice president. He is to be succeeded as vice president of the companies, it is said by F. M. Fritman, general manager of the R. & P. interests in Indiana county.

As a result of the elevation of Mr. Clark and Mrs. Fritman, a number of changes will probably be made in the personnel of the companies.

Mr. Robinson has been the active head of the R. & P. and associated companies for many years, and his election to the chairmanship of the board of directors means, in a measure, his retirement from active service.

Great weather isn't it? But somehow we can't get the thought out of our heads that it is still winter. That is why we have made no effort to clean up our yards of rubbish, tin cans, etc.

Now is a good time to plan that new chicken pen, that bigger better garden, that flower bed, (yes, flower beds are to come back since the war is over) and is there not just about a dozen other things we can lay out and prepare for the first nice spring day.

How many property owners are going to apply some fresh paint to their properties this spring and summer. From what we hear about it, we judge the fellow who puts in his order first is the wise guy.

The next time some fellow tells you how many people are going into the business of distilling when prohibition comes into effect, ask him what kind of company he is keeping that he is keeping with the plans of crooks.

TAFT'S VIEW THE RIGHT ONE

Today's Public Ledger editorial by ex-President Taft should be read by every law abiding American citizen, also those who want to obey such laws as they are in sympathy with and disobey and encourage the breaking down of laws which owing to the dent in their purse are as thorns in their side. Mr. Taft was not in favor of the Federal prohibition amendment and gave as his main reason that the people in large thickly settled communities were not yet ready to forego their wine, beer and whiskey. However, Mr. Taft in the following paragraph, in a few words, sets forth the wisdom of a judge on the enforcement of the prohibition amendment.

"It is now the duty of every good citizen in the premises, no matter what his previous opinion of the wisdom or expediency of the amendment, to urge and vote for all reasonable and practical legislative measures by Congress adapted to secure the enforcement of this amendment. Those who claim that the amendment has not been constitutionally adopted have nothing substantial on which to base their claim. The further argument that the amendment is void because inconsistent with the fundamental constitutional compact as to personal liberty, or reserved power of the States, as for instance a change of representation of the States in the Senate would be, is 'moonshine'."

"This is a democratic government, and the voice of the people expressed through the machinery provided by the Constitution for its expression and by constitutional majorities is supreme. Every loyal citizen must obey. This is the fundamental principle of free government. It is this principle which the Bolsheviks are fighting with wholesale assassination and starvation of their fellow citizens. One who, in the matter of national prohibition, holds his personal opinion and his claim of personal liberty to be of higher sanction than this overwhelming constitutional expression of the people, is a disciple of practical Bolshevism. Those who oppose passage of practical measures to enforce the amendment, which itself declares the law and gives to Congress the power and duty to enforce it, promote the nonenforcement of this law and the consequent demoralization of all law. This was the evil result opponents of the amendment prophesied, and they are thus doing all they can to vindicate their view. Such a course is unpatriotic and is not playing the game of self-government fairly."

TWO KEYSTONE STATE CLYDE CURRY WRITES MEN GET CITATIONS OF HIS EXPERIENCES

First Lieut. Sheldon V. Clarke, Balloon Section. For extraordinary heroism in action near Raucourt, France, August 28 and September 26, 1918. While making a general surveillance of enemy territory on August 28 and September 26, 1918, Lieut. Clarke was attacked by enemy planes. On both occasions he remained at his post and directed the fire by telephone until his balloon had been set on fire. On August 28 he assisted a passenger to descend, and did not jump himself until the other's parachute had opened. On both occasions he reascended as soon as another balloon could be obtained. Home address, Virgin A. Clarke, mother, 39 East Third Street, Williamsport.

First Lieut. John J. Quinn, 189th Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action near Bantville, France, October 23, 1918. While patrolling the lines, Lieut. Quinn, with one pilot, sighted and attacked four enemy machines (Fokker type). Seven additional enemy planes joined the first four, and notwithstanding his great odds, he sent one machine crashing to the earth. Motor trouble forced him to drive straight through the enemy formation, and although followed and his machine badly damaged, he was able to outmaneuver and escape from his adversaries. Home address, August N. J. Quinn, father, 407 Post Office Building, Philadelphia.

BACK FROM FRANCE

Clarence Stine son of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Stine, has arrived home from France, having recently been mustered out of the army at Camp Upton, Long Island. He had some thrilling experiences during his fourteen months service with the A. E. F. He was "over the top" four times, the last time being severely gassed. His brother William is also in France and the last time Clarence saw him he was herding a bunch of hun prisoners back to the corral. The Stine brothers did their bit and their family and friends have just reason to be proud of them.

GERMANTOWN LADY GETS NEW ENERGY

Mrs. A. Backwith, 850 Carpenter Lane, Germantown, Philadelphia, tells of her new-found energy. "I suffered from indigestion, gastritis and a run-down system. Gas caused a bloated and distressful feeling around the heart. I had bad dreams, a poor appetite and an extreme lack of energy. I heard about a case like mine where Tanlac had helped. After using Tanlac I soon began to lose that draggy, all-day feeling. My energy returned. I was able to do my work with vim and snap, and I eat heartily. I find Tanlac a good thing."

The Clearfield Progress
Clearfield, Pennsylvania, U. S. A.
Gentlemen:

Am just in receipt of some copies of the Clearfield Progress which were mailed to me by my father, recently deceased. Through the medium of your worthy paper I would like to express my sincerest condolence for the deaths of the Clearfield boys whose names appear on the casualty lists. I was very sorry to learn that so many of them had to pay the supreme sacrifice in their effort to bring about victory, but their parents and loved ones will know and console themselves with the thought that they did not give up their lives in vain, because it was really the giving up of so many good young American boys' lives that was so instrumental in bringing this terrible war to an early close.

"During my time at the front, which was in the Verdun sector from Le Mort Homme (Dead Man's Hill) across the Meuse river to Stenay, I passed through many and varied experiences. On account of my experience with motorcycles, I was employed as a motorcycle courier and despatch rider, and my work brought me into close contact with the German lines many times, and while there, I had some experiences and saw some sights that I shall never forget. Will not mention them here; space and time will not permit me to do so.

On the day the war ended, we were in the town of Mouzay, near Stenay, and remained there until December 5th, when we were entrained for this town in which we are now billeted. I came overland on my motorcycle and passed through some of the most historic towns of France, among the most important was the city of Verdun which was so heavily shelled by the Germans during the early part of the war. I also passed through Chaumont in which place the General Headquarters of the American army is located. This town in which we have our headquarters is right in the central part of France. The whole division, the 80th, to which our Brigade belongs, is billeted in small nearby towns and I make two round trips a day to the different units which compose the division. The headquarters of the Division is in Ancy-le-Franc, famous as the site of the Castle of Ancy-le-Franc, which was built by the Duke of Clermont.

As we were one of the first National Army Divisions to come to France it is rumored that we shall return home at an early date. All the boys are anxious to get back to their homes in the good old U. S. A. A number of the boys of this Brigade are at present on leave at Aix-les-Bains near the Swiss border.

Trusting that you will kindly publish this letter so that some of my friends and relatives at home may hear from me, I remain
Very respectfully yours,
CLYDE A. CURRY.

The Women's Legion of England has decided to continue the training of women for the land, both with a view to home service and also for the purpose of equipping women for emigration. The Legion also proposes to undertake a reformation in the conditions of household service, as regards the hours of work, recreation, and so on.

NO GENERAL CUT IN TRUCK PRICES

Sales Manager of the Republic Motor Truck Co., Sees Banner Year for Truck Industry with Manufacturers Unable to Produce Sufficient Vehicles to Meet the Demand—Post-War Situation, as He Sees It, Warrants Confidence and Prudence.

Will the prices of motor trucks undergo a revision that will bring them down to pre-war levels, or nearly so? This question is one of considerable importance with dealers and distributors and with manufacturers as well. The answer is found in the fact that the prices of materials and labor have not changed since the cessation of hostilities, and motor trucks that carried prices incommensurate with manufacturing cost cannot be reduced.

"We anticipate no reduction in our prices until such time as justified by a change in labor and material scales," says H. F. Harris, sales manager of the Republic Motor Truck Co., Inc., Alma, Michigan. "The War Industries Board has announced that the prices which have been set on various materials will be continued until the expiration of the original term for which the prices were made effective. Even after that time, the war board may continue to regulate prices under certain conditions. This means that raw material prices are likely to remain at the present quotations for many months. And, even with the release of the thousands of men in service and their gradual return to factories and shops and offices, wages will probably continue to remain high. Delivery of raw material, while increasing, is nevertheless progressing rather slowly and plants are far from having their normal supplies.

"Without a doubt 1919 will be a banner year for industrial America. From what we have learned from every source obtainable, business is opening up strong and with every indication of great prosperity ahead. Our country and Europe will be fed from our farms for some time to come. A burden of responsibility is on the farmer. His product will be in big demand, as a manufacturer, he is already oversold.

"Although the ending of the war will open to the world a four years' harvest of wheat which has been stored in Australia, Argentina, and other countries, it is unlikely that America will participate in the benefits thereof. Neither will the fact that the estimated acreage sown to wheat this fall and next spring of 75,000,000—by far the largest on record, and which with a seasonable weather will yield a billion bushels of this nutritious grain—result in a decline of prices.

"The reason, of course is the government's guaranty of $2.26 a bushel to the farmer as a war measure. This guaranty, while it covers only the 1919 crop, holds until June 1920, in order to absorb the last reserves in storage. A bill is now being prepared by the chairman of the house agricultural committee to extend this date and also to shut out cheaper wheat from other countries in order to protect our own interests. It is possible that without this guaranty wheat would have gone still higher. Nevertheless, under its impetus the farmers will produce next year 400,000,000 bushels more wheat than can be consumed at home, and which must be thrown upon the world's markets.

"Here, perhaps, is the biggest opportunity for motorized farming. The large grain growers of the West have a big problem of transportation for moving their crops. Some are using trucks now, and with such splendid results, that we believe thousands of new trucks will go into service of this kind during 1919. They have large tonnages to haul each year and heretofore have done so mostly with horse-drawn equipment. There is no reason why the grain grower should not be one of our biggest customers.

"Had it not been for the war motor truck production and sales would have undoubtedly reached unprecedented figures last year. Now that the makers are gradually getting back to a pre-war basis, it is safe to assume that their well-laid plans will be carried out on an even greater scale than ever.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat sours and forms gas and acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling up right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles become loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost taste-

le, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Just as soap and hot water are the skin cleansing, sweetening and freshening so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. They also should they will become real cranks on the subject shortly."

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmothers' Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair, when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound" you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray. Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this thru your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

Monday evening, in the second game of the series, the office team of the C. R. Co., playing against the garage team went "over the top" with a credit of 60 pins. The failure of the opposing team to make good this time, was laid at the door of Barattell who had developed extreme nervousness on receiving a telephone message that he was to be the honor guest at a "surprise" party. Billie explained to the boys that it was his birthday so, not wishing to let him in for the wrong kind of a "surprise," they allowed him to bowl out his games and depart. The office team won the first game by 60 points; the second and third went the way of the first game. Ammerman, high man for the office team, rolled his usual high score, 320, and McKendrick of the garage team scored 302. The team which came a cropper at the hands of the office team last week, were present, just to see how they could "do" the victorious team in the next game which will be bowled Friday evening.

ADMIRAL RODMAN SAYS OUR NAVY IS SECOND TO NONE

When Admiral Rodman, who commanded the American navy in the North sea during the war, said, so far as officers and men are concerned, the personnel of the American fleet is "very much superior" to the British, he said a mouth full. Further he assured the House of Representatives that our ships are equal to any in the world. Admiral Rodman said: "Soon after we entered the war the efficiency of our fleet was lowered because of sending so many armed crews to the merchant service and by tremendous expansion." But after our fleet had been merged with the grand fleet, and we had time to get back to our old footing, our navy was equal to the British in every respect.

"Now after a year of war there is not a shadow of difference between the two. Our personnel is very much superior. The enlisted personnel of our navy is very much more adaptable for the reason that the men have been taught from their earliest school days to be self-reliant, and also because there is no great class distinction between the officers and men. In many cases they are drawn from the same social status."

The admiral said that it was freely admitted among British officers that the American squadron was the cleanest and best kept of the grand fleet, so much so, that it was set up as a standard of excellence. The British Admiralty appointed a commission to learn how the high degree of cleanliness and the superiority of American mechanism, were attained, and "yankee ingenuity" was found to be responsible.

Admiral Rodman made it clear that he did not want to appear to be drawing a sharp contrast between the navies of the two countries, "because the British navy has proved that it is amply able to take care of itself, and has helped ours, with the greatest friendliness, in many ways."

The high standard of our navy is not hard to account for, as we are always on the lookout for good, clean and intelligent young men to enter its service. In the navy the highest standards are taught, and after the termination of an enlistment the man is returned to civil life, clean, trained and schooled. Chief Machinists Mate Weiss, officer in charge of the navy recruiting station, Room 210, commerce building, Altoona, Pa., finds it a pleasure to hear from young men who are thinking of taking advantage of the navy's offer to gain training and schooling. This commission expends $3753.60 each year among the deserving mothers of the county in need of assistance. There are an exceptionally large number of applications for aid on file at this time due to the ravages of the flu the past three months and as a result the available funds which are supplied by the state and county on a fifty-fifty basis, are entirely inadequate to meet the demands.

The commission is doing a great work most successfully.

New Treatment That Knocks Rheumatism

75c BOX FREE TO ANY SUFFERER

Up in Syracuse, N. Y., a treatment for rheumatism has been found that hundreds of users say is a wonder, reporting cases that seem little short of miraculous. Just a few treatments even in the very worst cases seem to accomplish wonders even after other remedies have failed entirely. It seems to neutralize the uric acid and mine salt deposits in the blood, driving all the poisonous clogging waste from the system. Soreness, pain, stiffness, swelling just seem to melt away and vanish.

The treatment first introduced by Mr. Delano is so good that its owner wants everybody that suffers from rheumatism or who has a friend so afflicted, to get a free 75c package from him to prove just what it will do in every case before a penny is spent. Mr. Delano says: "To prove that the Delano treatment will positively overcome rheumatism, no matter how severe, stubborn or long standing the case, and even after all other treatments have failed, I will, if you have never previously used the treatment, send you a full size 75c package free if you will just cut out this notice and send it with your name and address with 10c to help pay postage and distribution expense to me personally."

Mrs. Young Tells Her Experience
The following brief account of an interview with a Clearfield woman three years ago, and its sequel, will be read with keen interest by every citizen.

Mrs. F. Young, 418 Locust street says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills and found them a remedy of great merit. I was annoyed with a dull pain across my kidneys and my back was sore and weak. My kidneys acted irregularly. I used Doan's Kidney pills as directed and they greatly relieved me."

OVER THREE YEARS LATER
Mrs. Young said: "I use Doan's Kidney pills when I have any signs of kidney trouble and they never fail to help me. I am glad to confirm the statement I gave before endorsing them."

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE FIRE.

"Quack, quack, quack, help, help," shrieked and cackled more than one hundred thousand ducks at the same time.

"Quack, quack, quack, help, help," they kept on cackling. "There must be some trouble over at the duck farm," said a man quite a long distance off.

He could hear the ducks quacking and quacking and though he was a good many miles off still he wanted to see what the matter was.

This man was a fireman and he was sitting outside the firehouse in a town some distance away when he heard this quacking. He told another fireman that there surely must be some trouble at the duck farm.

"I think," said the fireman, "I will get out my spyglasses and see what I can make out."

For the quacking kept up and still it sounded very strange to the fireman.

"Don't you suppose," said the second fireman, "that one of the ducks has been hurt and the others are quacking in sympathy?"

"I don't believe," said the first fireman, "that one hundred thousand ducks would be so sympathetic at the same time. And they wouldn't make so much noise. I fear something has happened over there."

And he looked through his spyglasses in the direction of the duck farm.

"There, I see something like smoke," he said. "Yes, I'm sure I see something like smoke."

"Near the duck farm?" said the other fireman, getting up, and adding: "We'd better send out the alarm and get started."

"It's away from the farm that I see the smoke," said the first fireman, "but maybe the ducks are afraid it will reach them. It's one of those forest fires I think."

So an alarm was sent out in the town and the firemen rushed to the firehouse and got on their fire-clothes as they hurried away on the fire engine.

How the horses did run! Still the ducks were quacking. The horses galloped, the men held on, and the ones who guided the fire horses drove as they had never driven before.

"Quack, quack, quack, help, help," the ducks were calling. "Oh dear," they kept saying in duck language, "will help never come? Oh

"Quack, Quack, Help, Help!"

Jear, will we all be burned up? The smoke is coming nearer. Oh dear, the fire is spreading.

"Oh, can't they hurry? Hurry! Oh, oh, oh, quack, quack, quack."

By this time every one on the farm was awake for it had been rather early in the morning when the firemen were sitting outside their firehouse and had heard the ducks first start making a noise.

"It's a fire!" shouted the people on the farm. "A terrible forest fire! Oh, send for the firemen and the engine! Oh, send for help, help, help." And they telephoned wildly to the town.

"Quack, quack, quack," cackled the poor ducks. They were very much frightened.

But just at that moment, when the people on the farm felt that help could not come in time to save them and the one hundred thousand ducks, along dashed the fire engines, the brave firemen drawn by the splendid horses.

They rushed past the duck farm to the forest fire which was coming steadily nearer.

"Come men, come people," they shouted as they went by. And every one went rushing to help the firemen. The dreadful forest fire was stopped just before it reached the duck farm, and the ducks cackled softly and happily, though still they were nervous from all they had been through: "We are safe, quack, quack, we are safe."

"How did you ever get here before we telephoned?" asked the people on the farm.

Bible Spelling Match.

Choose sides as in a spelling match and let the leader of the first side give the first syllable of the name of some Bible character. The leader of the opposite side must then spell the complete name if he can. Failing this, he loses a member to the other side. If he answers correctly he is credited with a merit.

TRANSOCEANIC FLIGHT MADE POSSIBLE BY NEW INVENTIONS

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 1.—"With the discovery of the long-distance, wireless direction-finder, the transatlantic flight is no longer a theory, but soon will be an accomplishment," says Dr. Frank Schlesinger, director of the Allegheny Observatory.

Dr. Schlesinger has returned to his work here after ten months of service for Uncle Sam. His duties were to supervise the manufacture of aeronautical instruments in order to make navigation of the heavier-than-air machines easier.

He mentioned the gyroscopic compass and another discovery that will aid in the accomplishment of the flight, for it will enable the aviator to locate his bearings. Constant vibration of the engines, Dr. Schlesinger said, together with the counter attraction of the metal parts have made the present compass more or less obsolete.

Many devices were adopted to increase the pilot's safety, according to the scientists. Other inventions and devices were contemplated, but the end of the war has stopped their development.

Included in this category, Dr. Schlesinger said, was the development of a gasoline tank that could not be set on fire. It consisted of a rubber lining mounted on steel framework and covered by a thin layer of some soft metal such as brass. Machine gun incendiary bullets following immediately upon an armor-piercing bullet, which the Germans were in the habit of firing alternately, would fail to have the desired effect of causing a leak or of setting fire to the fuel.

ANNUAL REPORT OF PROVOST MARSHAL
GENERAL CROWDER IS INTERESTING

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The United States was ready to increase its fighting force to 7,000,000 men during 1919 if the war had continued, Provost Marshal General Crowder today stated in his annual report. About 18 per cent. of the men of military age, 18 to 45, were in the service, the report said. Seven per cent. was the maximum per cent. of men taken from one industry. The farmer was treated better than any other labor. Sixty-nine per cent. of those registered were in the deferred class. Comparatively few married men were taken. Physically the nation is 70 per cent. perfect according to draft experts.

RAILROADERS WAGES MUST BE KEPT
TO WAR HEIGHT SAYS MR. HINES

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Wage advances made to railroad employees during the war must be maintained, Director General Hines told the Senate Inter-State Commerce Commission today. The government, he indicated, still owes the railroads $381,000,000 on rentals.

Senators objected to extending government railroad control. "I can't see why Congress should tie its hands three or five years longer," declared Senator Pomerene, of Ohio. "I can't see why the reforms you have instituted can not be required of the railroads themselves subject to government supervision."

"That is not practical," replied Hines.

UNFAIRNESS

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Lewis F. Swift attempted to have President Wilson interfere with the Federal Trade Commission's packers investigation. He wrote two letters to the President after failing to obtain an interview, alleging that the packers were being treated unfairly and asked the White House to take action to modify the commission's activities. Henry Veeder, Swift's attorney, read the letters to the Senate Inter-State Commerce committee today. President Wilson refused to interfere with the investigation. Swift wrote one letter just before the commission submitted its report to the Senate last July telling the President that the investigation was unfair and defended his concern. Veeder admitted he made no attempt to have witnesses testify as the Federal Trade Commission's packers-probe.

$100 WAR SAVINGS
STAMPS WILL SOON
BE ON THE MARKET

Philadelphia, Feb. 5.—The big war savings stamps will soon be on the market.

These stamps, in denomination of $100, are to be issued shortly by the treasury department and will be sold on the same relative terms as the $5 war savings certificates, of which the people have already bought more than a billion dollars worth.

The new stamps, which are now on the government presses at Washington, will cost $96.20 if bought during February, the price increasing twenty cents each month until the end of the year. They are redeemable for $100 on January 1, 1924. The stamp will be about the size of the $100 bond of the Fourth Liberty Loan.

The government ruling that no person can hold more than $1000 of war savings stamps of any single issue is still in force. On February 1, the price of the stamps increased one cent to $4.13. Thrift stamps bought last year are good for 1919 war savings stamps.

Decision to issue $100 stamps was reached by officials of the treasury department as the result of suggestions by investors in W. S. S. who said they found it irksome to amass a lot of $5 stamps and paste them upon certificates. They said that in their opinion investors of $100 or more a one time should be given equal encouragement as those who purchase twenty-five cent thrift stamps or $1 W. S. S. Heads of households may procure $1,000 worth of W. S. S. for every member but not more than that amount for each individual during any one year. The W. S. S. is really a short term discount bond, which may be converted into cash at the option of the holder, and is thus an excellent form of security for investor who are more or less doubtful as to the future, and feel they cannot afford to tie up their money in other investments.

Four per cent interest compounded quarterly, is paid upon the W. S. S. whether it be a $100 stamp or a $5 stamp and both type of bond mature within five years of the date of purchase.

DECLARES SHE HAS TALKED WITH HER
HUSBAND'S SPIRIT

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX
(In an interview with Winifred Graham.)

LONDON, Jan. 20.—"For a whole year after I lost my husband, I searched in the Valley of Sorrow for a new light. Before he died he promised me I should have knowledge of him—if it were possible."

"God has no secrets that He does not intend to share with those who are adventurous enough, reverent enough, patient enough, to seek the way of knowledge."

"The world war prepared the minds of human beings as nothing before ever prepared it for the study of the world beyond. A spiritual awakening has begun which will leap over the barrier set by creeds and dogmas—seeking its own trail of truth."

"It was the ouija board, worked by a friend who had previously no idea she was a medium, which made it possible for me to communicate with my husband."

"My friend and I, sitting together, were suddenly shaken by a power which beggars description. It was like an electric shock. The board seemed to be a thing alive. It moved with such force and speed that at first we could not follow it. Then we read: 'Brave one, keep up your courage. Love is all there is. I am with you always. I await your arrival.'"

Robert's Message
"At last I knew my message had come, for after experiencing the electric shock of its transmission I was in touch with Robert! (Mrs. Wilcox's husband.) He had kept his promise. DUBOIS UNIT GOOD
ROADS ASSOCIATION
HAS BEEN FORMED

At a largely attended good roads meeting held last evening at the Central Y. M. C. A., DuBois, a branch of the county organization was formed. It was an interesting meeting, as much so as the larger gathering at Clearfield, but on a smaller scale. There was the same earnest determination manifested to get better highways, and it is certain that very effort will be made along this line in the future.

The meeting was called to order by Walter Hatten, with Russell Howard acting as secretary. After briefly talking over the situation a nominating committee was appointed by Mr. Hatten for the purpose of bringing in a list of officers. This committee submitted the following report, which was accepted:

President, Walter Hatten, vice presidents—M. I. McCreight, F. P. Weaver, A. N. Work; secretary, Russell Howard; treasurer, B. M. Martin. Executive committee, George Wachob, Frank Hahne, Sgt. Grant Logan, C. L. Miles, W. L. Johnston, J. A. Slauchenhaupt, C. C. Hoover, S. J. Schreengost, A. F. Kuhn.

Shortly after this report County Commissioners Dale and Spencer entered the meeting. They were called upon by the chairman to tell, if possible, just when the road building could start. They stated that they did not know; that Harrisburg had not given them any information on the subject and they could not give out any information until they had heard from the highway department regarding the probable program.

They stated that Captain Winter, the district engineer, is now in Harrisburg and would probably be able to give considerable information when he returned.

DIVORCE AVALANCHE
ENGULFS OUR COURT

That all the wars and rumors of wars were not confined to the trenches of the western front during the past year or two has long been known to the neighbors and town gossips in several Clearfield county communities while the different sewing circles and other gatherings of the "weaker sex" in our immediate section were very well aware of and discussed storm signals flying at many different places hereabouts. The proof of this philosophical observation is shown by the records in Prothonotary Moore's office yesterday. Judge Bell put his official okeh on three different divorces and the recipients of these legal separations departed smilingly from the court room no doubt willing and anxious to try it again.

While these knots were being untied Attorney A. R. Chase dropped quietly into the Prothonotary's office and filed just eight divorce petitions for as many mismatched pairs. The regulars about the court house have long recognized that divorce actions run in streaks and like some other forms of insanity are controlled more or less by the moon and were really not surprised when Attorneys James A. Gleason and L. D. McCall, of DuBois, appeared this morning, the former bearing at least four divorce applications and the latter one.

Following is the two list of the "battles" adjourned and scheduled for legal arbitration.

CAPT. JACK FULFORD
ARRIVES IN NEW YORK

By United Press
New York, Feb. 5.—The transports Duc Desota, Marsailles and Gibraltar arrived here today with 1,776 men. Captain J. H. Fulford, of Clearfield, Pa., was among the officers.

NELSON ACQUITTED.
SANFORDS GUILTY
COURT GRINDS ON

The first case tried in criminal court this week was that of Com. vs. John Nelson who was charged by an Italian resident of Tyler with the stealing of four or five head of cattle.

This case attracted more than passing interest from the fact that cattle rustling on the barrens has long been a flourishing Clearfield county industry. Last year, so far as has been reported, more than fifteen head of cattle were stolen from the flocks herded on the mountains.

The farmers in the Coahen and Girard county who have suffered grievously in the past, were responsible for Mr. Nelson taking up herding last year in an attempt to break up the cattle thefts and it is the generally accepted belief that the real rustlers attempted to trace up a case on him because of that fact.

The prosecution may have been made in good faith from the evidence furnished but the jury was very properly of the belief that the wrong man had been arrested and Mr. Nelson was accordingly acquitted of the charge.

The case of Com. vs. Oliver Sanford and his wife was taken up this morning. The Sanfords are indicted upon a white slave charge. Orpha Gregg, the 18 year old white girl they had been harboring, was the chief witness against them. The Court appointed Wallace Smith and Clarence Kramer for the defense, and they put up a fine scrap but the evidence was against them and the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

The case of Com. vs. Edward McCann, who was charged on information made by the State Police with robbery and by the same token regarded as a suspect in the Oscoda arson case, was ignored by the grand jury, which completely exonerated Mr. McCann of the charge and suspicions. No evidence was adduced to warrant the return of a bill and the defendant was accordingly vindicated.

He leaves to mourn his sad death a widow and two small children. He is also survived by his parents, three brothers and one sister. He was 22 years of age.

HOUTZDALE MAN
SUES CHIEF OF POLICE

It makes a Houtzdale man mad to even hit him with your hat because we tried it one time when you hit a Houtzdale man a policeman's billy club and threw him upon the head and body and throw him up against a table causing bodily injuries which incapacitated him from his usual avocation for several weeks, you are sure up against it.

Chief of Police Jacob Smiles is already being made aware of the truth of these observations.

On January 23rd last Chief Smiles felt he had occasion to arrest a Houtzdale man named Charles Houtzdale and as the latter didn't want to be done and made such serious objection thereto the policeman was forced to employ force of arms to accomplish his full design. He got away with it however but whether he was wise and judicious in doing so will be determined in the courts of Clearfield county.

A. H. Woodward, Esq., representing Mr. Bookman, entered suit in the Prothonotary's office regarding Chief Smiles in which it is sought to recover $5000 for physical and mental damages received by Houtzdale in the encounter. The plaintiff's statement recites that he is 35 years of age and a peaceful, law abiding citizen; that on January 23rd he the officer wrongly attempted to arrest him and in doing so injured him severely about the head and body and threw him against a table, doing great damage and injury from which he has been sick, lame and disordered and unable to work and expects to remain so for at least a week longer. He also was forced to pay $2 to a doctor for medical aid.

He has been greatly humiliated, disgraced and shamed and sustained a loss of money and good will among his acquaintances and business associates and claims that he takes $50000 in each of the years to save his injured feelings. The case has been set for trial in court.

A. L. Hagarty and W. W. Bowers of Coalport through their attorneys Miller & Harwick entered suit in the Prothonotary's office this morning against F. H. Hahn and Son for $5000 damages for coal alleged to have been wrongfully removed from under the John B. Dillon tract of 300 acres in Beccaria township.

B. M. CLARK HEADS
R. & P. COMPANIES

Although official announcement has not yet been made, it is understood that B. M. Clark of Punxsutawney, was elected president of the Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal and Iron company and of the Jefferson and Clearfield Coal and Iron company, and allied coal corporations, at a meeting of the directors of the companies held in New York. He succeeds L. W. Robinson, who it is said, has been made chairman of the board of directors.

Mr. Clark has been the vice president of the company the past two years, and for many years prior to his elevation to the vice presidency was solicitor for the company, which position he maintained during its service as vice president. He is to be succeeded as vice president of the companies, it is said by F. M. Friedman, general manager of the R. & P. interests in Indiana county.

As a result of the elevation of Mr. Clark and Mrs. Fritchman, a number of changes will probably be made in the personnel of the companies.

Mr. Robinson has been the active head of the R. & P. and associated companies for many years, and his election to the chairmanship of the board of directors means, in a measure, his retirement from active service.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 5, 1919.

Great weather isn't it? But somehow we can't get the thought out of our heads that it is still winter. That is why we have made no effort to clean up our yards of rubbish, tin cans, etc.

Now is a good time to plan that new chicken pen, that bigger, better garden, that flower bed, (yes, flower beds are to come back since the war is over) and is there not just about a dozen other things we can lay out and prepare for the first nice spring day.

How many property owners are going to apply some fresh paint to their properties this spring and summer. From what we hear about it, we judge the fellow who puts in his order first is the wise guy.

The next time some fellow tells you how many people are going into the business of distilling when prohibition comes into effect, ask him what kind of company he is keeping that he is keeping with the plans of crooks.

TAFT'S VIEW THE RIGHT ONE

Today's Public Ledger editorial by ex-President Taft should be read by every law abiding American citizen, also those who want to obey such laws as they are in sympathy with and disobey and encourage the breaking down of laws which owing to the dent in their purse are as thorns in their side. Mr. Taft was not in favor of the Federal prohibition amendment and gave as his main reason that the people in large thickly settled communities were not yet ready to forego their wine, beer and whiskey. However, Mr. Taft in the following paragraph, in a few words, sets forth the wisdom of a judge on the enforcement of the prohibition amendment.

"It is now the duty of every good citizen in the premises, no matter what his previous opinion of the wisdom or expediency of the amendment, to urge and vote for all reasonable and practical legislative measures by Congress adapted to secure the enforcement of this amendment. Those who claim that the amendment has not been constitutionally adopted have nothing substantial on which to base their claim. The further argument that the amendment is void because inconsistent with the fundamental constitutional compact as to personal liberty, or reserved power of the States, as for instance a change of representation of the States in the Senate would be, is 'moonshine'."

"This is a democratic government, and the voice of the people expressed through the machinery provided by the Constitution for its expression and by constitutional majorities is supreme. Every loyal citizen must obey. This is the fundamental principle of free government. It is this principle which the Bolsheviks are fighting with wholesale assassination and starvation of their fellow citizens. One who, in the matter of national prohibition, holds his personal opinion and his claim of personal liberty to be of higher sanction than this overwhelming constitutional expression of the people, is a disciple of practical Bolshevism. Those who oppose passage of practical measures to enforce the amendment, which itself declares the law and gives to Congress the power and duty to enforce it, promote the nonenforcement of this law and the consequent demoralization of all law. This was the evil result opponents of the amendment prophesied, and they are thus doing all they can to vindicate their view. Such a course is unpatriotic and is not playing the game of self-government fairly."

First Lieut. Sheldon V. Clarke, Balloon Section. For extraordinary heroism in action near Raucourt, France, August 28 and September 26, 1918. While making a general surveillance of enemy territory on August 28 and September 26, 1918, Lieut. Clarke was attacked by enemy planes. On both occasions he remained at his post and directed the fire by telephone until his balloon had been set on fire. On August 28 he assisted a passenger to descend, and did not jump himself until the other's parachute had opened. On both occasions he reascended as soon as another balloon could be obtained. Home address, Virgin A. Clarke, mother, 39 East Third Street, Williamsport.

First Lieut. John J. Quinn, 189th Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action near Bantville, France, October 23, 1918. While patrolling the lines, Lieut. Quinn, with one pilot, sighted and attacked four enemy machines (Fokker type). Seven additional enemy planes joined the first four, and, notwithstanding his great odds, he sent one machine crashing to the earth. Motor trouble forced him to drive straight through the enemy formation, and, although followed and his machine badly damaged, he was able to outmaneuver and escape from his adversaries. Home address, August N. J. Quinn, father, 407 Post Office Building, Philadelphia.

BACK FROM FRANCE

Clarence Stine son of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Stine, has arrived home from France, having recently been mustered out of the army at Camp Upton, Long Island. He had some thrilling experiences during his fourteen months service with the A. E. F. He was "over the top" four times, the last time being severely gassed. His brother William is also in France and the last time Clarence saw him he was herding a bunch of hun prisoners back to the corral. The Stine brothers did their bit and their family and friends have just reason to be proud of them.

GERMANTOWN LADY GETS NEW ENERGY

Mrs. A. Backwith, 850 Carpenter Lane, Germantown, Philadelphia, tells of her new-found energy. "I suffered from indigestion, gastritis and a run-down system. Gas caused a bloated and distressful feeling around the heart. I had bad dreams, a poor appetite and an extreme lack of energy. I heard about a case like mine where Tanlac had helped. After using Tanlac I soon began to lose that draggy, all-day feeling. My energy returned. I was able to do my work with vim and snap, and I eat heartily. I find Tanlac a good thing."

The Clearfield Progress
Clearfield, Pennsylvania, U. S. A.
Gentlemen:

Am just in receipt of some copies of the Clearfield Progress which were mailed to me by my father, recently deceased. Through the medium of your worthy paper I would like to express my sincerest condolence for the deaths of the Clearfield boys whose names appear on the casualty lists. I was very sorry to learn that so many of them had to pay the supreme sacrifice in their effort to bring about victory, but their parents and loved ones will know and console themselves with the thought that they did not give up their lives in vain, because it was really the giving up of so many good young American boys' lives that was so instrumental in bringing this terrible war to an early close.

"During my time at the front, which was in the Verdun sector from Le Mort Homme (Dead Man's Hill) across the Meuse river to Stenay, I passed through many and varied experiences. On account of my experience with motorcycles, I was employed as a motorcycle courier and despatch rider, and my work brought me into close contact with the German lines many times, and while there, I had some experiences and saw some sights that I shall never forget. Will not mention them here; space and time will not permit me to do so.

On the day the war ended, we were in the town of Mouzay, near Stenay, and remained there until December 5th, when we were entrained for this town in which we are now billeted. I came overland on my motorcycle and passed through some of the most historic towns of France, among the most important was the city of Verdun which was so heavily shelled by the Germans during the early part of the war. I also passed through Chaumont in which place the General Headquarters of the American army is located. This town in which we have our headquarters is right in the central part of France. The whole division, the 80th, to which our Brigade belongs, is billeted in small nearby towns and I make two round trips a day to the different units which compose the division. The headquarters of the Division is in Ancy-le-Franc, famous as the site of the Castle of Ancy-le-Franc, which was built by the Duke of Clermont.

As we were one of the first National Army Divisions to come to France it is rumored that we shall return home at an early date. All the boys are anxious to get back to their homes in the good old U. S. A. A number of the boys of this Brigade are at present on leave at Aix-les-Bains near the Swiss border.

Trusting that you will kindly publish this letter so that some of my friends and relatives at home may hear from me, I remain

Very respectfully yours,

CLYDE A. CURRY.

The Women's Legion of England has decided to continue the training of women for the land, both with a view to home service and also for the purpose of equipping women for emigration. The Legion also proposes to undertake a reformation in the conditions of household service, as regards the hours of work, recreation, and so on.

NO GENERAL CUT IN TRUCK PRICES

Sales Manager of the Republic Motor Truck Co., Sees Banner Year for Truck Industry with Manufacturers Unable to Produce Sufficient Vehicles to Meet the Demand—Post-War Situation, as He Sees It, Warrants Confidence and Prudence.

Will the prices of motor trucks undergo a revision that will bring them down to pre-war levels, or nearly so? This question is one of considerable importance with dealers and distributors and with manufacturers as well. The answer is found in the fact that the prices of materials and labor have not changed since the cessation of hostilities, and motor trucks that carried prices incommensurate with manufacturing cost cannot be reduced.

"We anticipate no reduction in our prices until such time as justified by a change in labor and material scales," says H. F. Harris, sales manager of the Republic Motor Truck Co., Inc., Alma, Michigan. "The War Industries Board has announced that the prices which have been set on various materials will be continued until the expiration of the original term for which the prices were made effective. Even after that time, the war board may continue to regulate prices under certain conditions. This means that raw material prices are likely to remain at the present quotations for many months. And, even with the release of the thousands of men in service and their gradual return to factories and shops and offices, wages will probably continue to remain high. Delivery of raw material, while increasing, is nevertheless progressing rather slowly and plants are far from having their normal supplies.

"Without a doubt 1919 will be a banner year for industrial America. From what we have learned from every source obtainable, business is opening up strong and with every indication of great prosperity ahead. Our country and Europe will be fed from our farms for some time to come. A burden of responsibility is on the farmer. His product will be in big demand, as a manufacturer, he is already oversold.

"Although the ending of the war will open to the world a four years' harvest of wheat which has been stored in Australia, Argentina, and other countries, it is unlikely that America will participate in the benefits thereof. Neither will the fact that the estimated acreage sown to wheat this fall and next spring of 75,000,000—by far the largest on record, and which with a seasonable weather will yield a billion bushels of this nutritious grain—result in a decline of prices.

"The reason, of course is the government's guaranty of $2.26 a bushel to the farmer as a war measure. This guaranty, while it covers only the 1919 crop, holds until June 1920, in order to absorb the last reserves in storage. A bill is now being prepared by the chairman of the house agricultural committee to extend this date and also to shut out cheaper wheat from other countries in order to protect our own interests. It is possible that without this guaranty wheat would have gone still higher. Nevertheless, under its impetus the farmers will produce next year 400,000,000 bushels more wheat than can be consumed at home, and which must be thrown upon the world's markets.

"Here, perhaps, is the biggest opportunity for motorized farming. The large grain growers of the West have a big problem of transportation for moving their crops. Some are using trucks now, and, with such splendid results, that we believe thousands of new trucks will go into service of this kind during 1919. They have large tonnages to haul each year and heretofore have done so mostly with horse-drawn equipment. There is no reason why the grain grower should not be one of our biggest customers.

"Had it not been for the war motor truck production and sales would have undoubtedly reached unprecedented figures last year. Now that the makers are gradually getting back to a pre-war basis, it is safe to assume that their well-laid plans will be carried out on an even greater scale than ever.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat sours and forms gas and acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling up right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach. To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost taste-

le, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Just as soap and hot water are the skin cleansing, sweetening and freshening so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. They also should see they will become real cranks on the subject shortly."

BE PRETTY! TURN
GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmothers' Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair, when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound" you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.
Don't stay gray. Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this thru your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears.

CURWENSVILLE

Monday evening, in the second game of the series, the office team of the C. R. Co., playing against the garage team went "over the top" with a credit of 60 pins. The failure of the opposing team to make good this time, was laid at the door of Barattell who had developed extreme nervousness on receiving a telephone message that he was to be the honor guest at a "surprise" party. Billie explained to the boys that it was his birthday so, not wishing to let him in for the wrong kind of a "surprise," they allowed him to bowl out his games and depart. The office team won the first game by 60 points; the second and third went the way of the first game. Ammerman, high man for the office team, rolled his usual high score, 320, and McKendrick of the garage team scored 302. The team which came a cropper at the hands of the office team last week, were present, just to see how they had been done and also, how they could "do" the victorious team in the next game which will be bowled Friday evening.

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

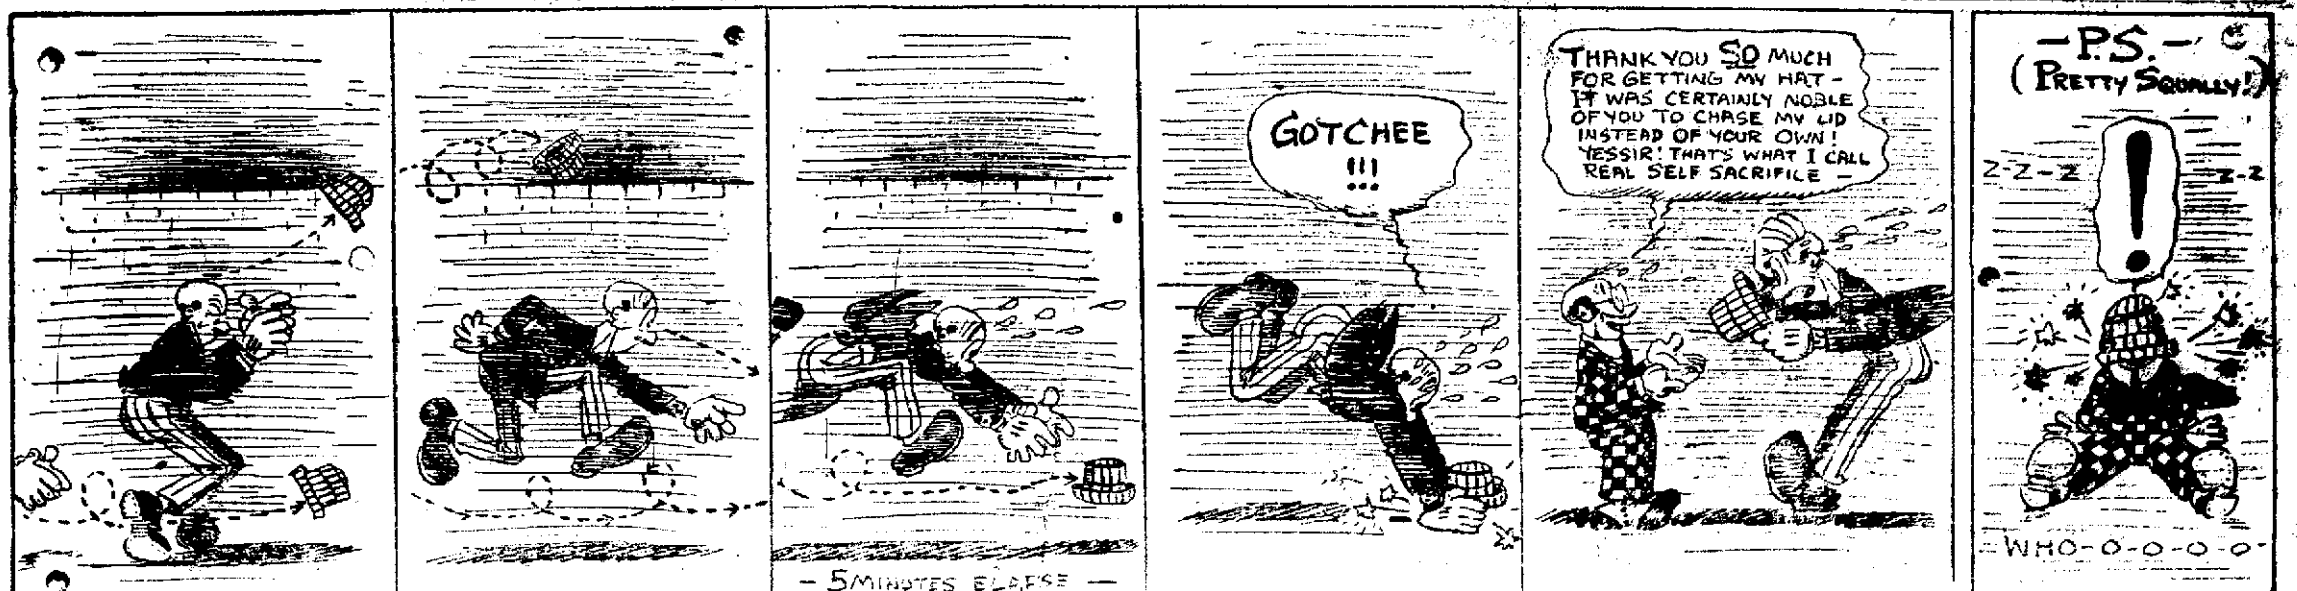

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

ADMIRAL RODMAN
SAYS OUR NAVY IS SECOND TO NONE

When Admiral Rodman, who commanded the American navy in the North sea during the war, said, so far as officers and men are concerned, the personnel of the American fleet is "very much superior" to the British, he said a mouth full. Further he assured the House of Representatives that our ships are equal to any in the world. Admiral Rodman said: "Soon after we entered the war the efficiency of our fleet was lowered because of sending so many armed crews to the merchant service and by tremendous expansion." But after our fleet had been merged with the grand fleet, and we had time to get back to our old footing, our navy was equal to the British in every respect.

"Now after a year of war there is not a shadow of difference between the two. Our personnel is very much superior. The enlisted personnel of our navy is very much more adaptable for the reason that the men have been taught from their earliest school days to be self-reliant, and also because there is no great class distinction between the officers and men. In many cases they are drawn from the same social status."

The admiral said that it was freely admitted among British officers that the American squadron was the cleanest and best kept of the grand fleet, so much so, that it was set up as a standard of excellence. The British Admiralty appointed a commission to learn how the high degree of cleanliness and the superiority of American mechanism, were attained, and "yankee ingenuity" was found to be responsible.

Admiral Rodman made it clear that he did not want to appear to be drawing a sharp contrast between the navies of the two countries, "because the British navy has proved that it is amply able to take care of itself, and has helped ours, with the greatest friendliness, in many ways."

The high standard of our navy is not hard to account for, as we are always on the lookout for good, clean and intelligent young men to enter its service. In the navy the highest standards are taught, and after the termination of an enlistment the man is returned to civil life, clean, trained and schooled. Chief Machinists Mate Weiss, officer in charge of the navy recruiting station, Room 210, commerce building, Altoona, Pa., finds it a pleasure to hear from young men who are thinking of taking advantage of the navy's offer to gain training and schooling. MOTHERS' ASSISTANCE
COMMISSION MEETS

The Mother's Assistance commission of Clearfield county met in regular session at the court house, this morning for the purpose of transacting business relative to mother's pensions.

The commission is composed of the following well known ladies:

Mrs. S. W. McLauren, Osceola, President; Mrs. A. B. Mosser, Mahaffey; Mrs. L. C. Norris and Mrs. A. E. Leitzinger, Clearfield; Mrs. D. E. Hibner and Mrs. H. I. Merris, DuBois; Mrs. W. A. Gould, Brisslin, with Mrs. Helen Livingston, of Clearfield, as secretary.

This commission expends $3753.60 each year among the deserving mothers of the county in need of assistance. There are an exceptionally large number of applications for aid on file at this time due to the ravages of the flu the past three months and as a result the available funds which are supplied by the state and county on a fifty-fifty basis, are entirely inadequate to meet the demands.

The commission is doing a great work most successfully.

New Treatment That
Knocks Rheumatism

75c BOX FREE TO ANY SUFFERER

Up in Syracuse, N. Y., a treatment for rheumatism has been found that hundreds of users say is a wonder, reporting cases that seem little short of miraculous. Just a few treatments even in the very worst cases seem to accomplish wonders even after other remedies have failed entirely. It seems to neutralize the uric acid and mine salt deposits in the blood, driving all the poisonous clogging waste from the system. Soreness, pain, stiffness, swelling just seem to melt away and vanish.

The treatment first introduced by Mr. Delano is so good that its owner wants everybody that suffers from rheumatism or who has a friend so afflicted, to get a free 75c package from him to prove just what it will do in every case before a penny is spent. Mr. Delano says: "To prove that the Delano treatment will positively overcome rheumatism, no matter how severe, stubborn or long standing the case, and even after all other treatments have failed, I will, if you have never previously used the treatment, send you a full size 75c package free if you will just cut out this notice and send it with your name and address with 10c to help pay postage and distribution expense to me personally."

Mrs. F. Young, 418 Locust street says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills and found them a remedy of great merit. I was annoyed with a dull pain across my kidneys and my back was sore and weak. My kidneys acted irregularly. I used Doan's Kidney pills as directed and they greatly relieved me."

Mrs. Young said: "I use Doan's Kidney pills when I have any signs of kidney trouble and they never fail to help me. I am glad to confirm the statement I gave before endorsing them."

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

THE FIRE.

"Quack, quack, quack, help, help," shrieked and cackled more than one hundred thousand ducks at the same time.

"Quack, quack, quack, help, help," they kept on cackling. "There must be some trouble over at the duck farm," said a man quite a long distance off.

He could hear the ducks quacking and quacking and though he was a good many miles off still he wanted to see what the matter was.

This man was a fireman and he was sitting outside the firehouse in a town some distance away when he heard this quacking. He told another fireman that there surely must be some trouble at the duck farm.

"I think," said the fireman, "I will get out my spyglasses and see what I can make out."

For the quacking kept up and still it sounded very strange to the fireman.

"Don't you suppose," said the second fireman, "that one of the ducks has been hurt and the others are quacking in sympathy?"

"I don't believe," said the first fireman, "that one hundred thousand ducks would be so sympathetic at the same time. And they wouldn't make so much noise. I fear something has happened over there."

And he looked through his spyglasses in the direction of the duck farm.

"There, I see something like smoke," he said. "Yes, I'm sure I see something like smoke."

"Near the duck farm?" said the other fireman, getting up, and adding: "We'd better send out the alarm and get started."

"It's away from the farm that I see the smoke," said the first fireman, "but maybe the ducks are afraid it will reach them. It's one of those forest fires I think."

So an alarm was sent out in the town and the firemen rushed to the firehouse and got on their fire-clothes as they hurried away on the fire engine.

How the horses did run! Still the ducks were quacking. The horses galloped, the men held on, and the ones who guided the fire horses drove as they had never driven before.

"Quack, quack, quack, help, help," the ducks were calling.

"Oh dear," they kept saying in duck language, "will help never come? Oh

"Quack, Quack, Help, Help!"

Jear, will we all be burned up? The smoke is coming nearer. Oh dear, the fire is spreading.

"Oh, can't they hurry? Hurry! Oh, oh, oh, quack, quack, quack."

By this time every one on the farm was awake for it had been rather early in the morning when the firemen were sitting outside their firehouse and had heard the ducks first start making a noise.

"It's a fire!" shouted the people on the farm. "A terrible forest fire! Oh, send for the firemen and the engine! Oh, send for help, help, help." And they telephoned wildly to the town.

"Quack, quack, quack," cackled the poor ducks. They were very much frightened.

But just at that moment, when the people on the farm felt that help could not come in time to save them and the one hundred thousand ducks, along dashed the fire engines, the brave firemen drawn by the splendid horses.

They rushed past the duck farm to the forest fire which was coming steadily nearer.

"Come men, come people," they shouted as they went by. And every one went rushing to help the firemen. The dreadful forest fire was stopped just before it reached the duck farm, and the ducks cackled softly and happily, though still they were nervous from all they had been through: "We are safe, quack, quack, we are safe."

"How did you ever get here before we telephoned?" asked the people on the farm.

"Your ducks sent us the alarm," replied one of the firemen.

Bible Spelling Match.

Choose sides as in a spelling match and let the leader of the first side give the first syllable of the name of some Bible character. The leader of the opposite side must then spell the complete name if he can. Failing this, he loses a member to the other side. If he answers correctly he is credited with a merit.

TRANSCOCEANIC FLIGHT MADE POSSIBLE BY NEW INVENTIONS

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 1.—"With the discovery of the long-distance, wireless direction-finder, the transatlantic flight is no longer a theory, but soon will be an accomplishment," says Dr. Frank Schlesinger, director of the Allegheny Observatory.

Dr. Schlesinger has returned to his work here after ten months of service for Uncle Sam. His duties were to supervise the manufacture of aeronautical instruments in order to make navigation of the heavier-than-air machines easier.

He mentioned the gyroscopic compass and another discovery that will aid in the accomplishment of the flight, for it will enable the aviator to locate his bearings. Constant vibration of the engines, Dr. Schlesinger said, together with the counter attraction of the metal parts have made the present compass more or less obsolete.

Many devices were adopted to increase the pilot's safety, according to the scientists. Other inventions and devices were contemplated, but the end of the war has stopped their development.

Included in this category, Dr. Schlesinger said, was the development of a gasoline tank that could not be set on fire. It consisted of a rubber lining mounted on steel framework and covered by a thin layer of some soft metal such as brass. Machine gun incendiary bullets following immediately upon an armor-piercing bullet, which the Germans were in the habit of firing alternately, would fail to have the desired effect of causing a leak or of setting fire to the fuel.
